BEING DISCIPLES OF JESUS

Fr. Tirso Villaverde
Pastor

ST. BERNARD

Saturday, August 20, is the feast day of St. Bernard who was an abbot and a monk in the 12th century. He was instrumental in settling disputes including a schism that had threatened the stability of the Catholic Church during that time. The St. Bernard name could also be associated with the breed of dog. The breed's name came from a traveler's inn with the saint's name located in the Swiss Alps area where the particular breed was found living.

Why am I bringing up the name of St. Bernard? Well, he was an abbot. Some may have never heard of an abbot or only associate it with Hollywood portrayals. I became more familiar with the ministry of an abbot while I was in the seminary and visited a Benedictine monastery for the first time.

So what makes an abbot's role so special and unique in the life of the Church? Basically, an abbot is the leader of a male monastery of monks. Some religious orders may use the term monastery to designate the building in which they live but it does not necessarily mean that it has an abbot. It may sound confusing and I could go into more detail about the distinctions but it might be more confusing than anything else.

The word abbot comes from the Scriptural word "Abba" which Jesus used to address his Father. It connotes a very personal and close relationship with a father. In modern English, "abba" would be the equivalent of "daddy." This is the first and primary role of an abbot.

An abbot is called and chosen to be a father to his community in imitation of the Heavenly Father. Just like God, an abbot is chosen as head of his community to bring life, protection, and provide for the needs of his community. The members of his community are affectionately known as "his children" just as he is known as the "father" of the community with the same affection.

Generally, an abbot is a priest within the monastery. The office of abbot has a role similar to a bishop to a local diocese. Just as a bishop is seen as the shepherd of a diocese, an abbot is seen as the chief shepherd of his monastic community. In fact, an abbot has similar symbols as does a bishop.

The ring—Like a bishop, an abbot is given a ring that symbolizes he is wedded to the community. Once a monk is made into an abbot, he wears the ring even after he may resign as abbot, retire, or the community chooses his successor.

The mitre—Like a bishop, an abbot is also given a mitre—the pointy ceremonial hat that bishops wear during liturgies. The abbot's mitre has the same symbolism as the bishop's mitre. It is an outward reminder of his ecclesiastical authority as head of a particular community.

The crosier—Again, like a bishop, an abbot is presented with a crosier—the staff that symbolizes his ministry as a shepherd. An abbot carries the crosier whenever presiding at liturgies within the monastery. As a reminder of his abiding presence within a monastic community, the abbot's crosier is also placed at his seat in the monastery's church/chapel. Even when the abbot is not physically present with the community, the visible sign of his crosier is a reminder that the community is never without its father/shepherd.

The pectoral cross—An abbot also receives a pectoral cross which is to wear at all times in public. Like a bishop's pectoral cross, the cross of an abbot remains close to his heart as a reminder to him of the necessity to keep Jesus close to his heart.

The zucchetto—This is the round beanie-like covering that bishops wear on top of their heads during liturgies. Like the Jewish yarmulke or yamaka, the zucchetto is a reminder that the wearer is always in the presence of God and must remain humble before the Divine Majesty. Unlike bishops, though, the abbot's zucchetto is always black since that is the color that a priest might wear.

Between an abbot and a bishop, there is an essential difference. An abbot's authority applies only within the monastery. An abbot's role as shepherd is only over the monks that belong to his particular community. Outside of that community, an abbot must defer to the local bishop. At times, though, a local bishop might grant permission to abbots to confer the Sacrament of Confirmation at parishes within the bishop's diocese. This might be the case in instances where bishops might be the only bishop in a diocese and he needs help with all of the Confirmations demanded of his time.

There is a female counterpart to the abbot. In monasteries of monastic nuns, there is still a tradition of the abbess (the feminine form of the word abbot). Abbesses are not as prevalent as abbots in today's Church but there are still a few of them around. Like an abbot, an abbess also has a ring. She is also given a pectoral cross. An abbess also has a crosier because she is seen as the shepherd of her community of sisters. An abbess would not have a black zucchetto because she would not be a priest. There was also a time when abbesses were given a mitre but that has not been part of the Church's Tradition in a long time.

Like an abbot, an abbess is seen as the main parental figure in her community. In every matter that pertains to the day to day life of her monastic community, the abbess is where the "buck stops." In every respect, an abbess is the parent of the community and its shepherd.

If you ever have a chance to visit a monastery – male or female – it would be an interesting experience. It can be a spiritual renewal just as much as an introduction to the larger life of our Catholic Church.

Peace,

LANDONG SA PULONG (In the shadow of the Word)

Fr. Roy Belocura
Associate Pastor

"...Persevere in running the race that lies before us while keeping our eyes fixed on Jesus..."

Today is the 81st birth anniversary of my mom, Anastacia "Tasing" D. Belocura. She passed away 11 years ago. I got the passion for gardening from her, among other good things. I find meaning in growing plants, and even more in rescuing dying ones.

There's a valuable lesson that can be learned from growing our own plant or rescuing a dying one. It is easy of course to buy a blooming plant from the store, but the dedication and commitment put into growing and caring for the plant gives us an experience of how it is to participate in God's creative and healing work. We do our best with our hands to give the plant the needed care, but whether it reaches the blooming point or not is all in God's hands. That uncertainty of the result on our part should not stop us from doing the best we can because we are called to be mission-oriented, rather than result-oriented. Sticking to our mission with dedication and commitment does make us grow stronger in our faith in God, our relationship with the Lord, our spiritual life.

My mom did stick to her mission of making sure that her children (my sister Telma, my brother Marcos III, and me) receive the parental care we needed despite doing it all by herself, since my dad died when I was only five years old. Home-school-church was the routine that mom instilled in us.

We are all called to do the same. Let us stick to our mission as disciples of Christ. Let us persevere in doing God's will. Let us keep our eyes fixed on Jesus.

Fr. Roy

THE WOMAN

In the Gospels we hear Jesus refer to his mother Mary as "Woman." This reference should draw our attention to both Genesis and Revelation. But who is this "Woman," and why is she so central to salvation history? This powerful film presents the Catholic teaching about Mary and her important role in the life of the Church today. On this Solemnity of the Assumption, let us ponder Mary's role in our own lives!

Dear Family of St. Julie –

Our family would like to thank you for the incredible outpouring of support and love upon the death of our mom, Pat Kmak. The care and concern for our family from the St. Julie family has been overwhelming and has warmed our broken hearts.

In the days immediately before her death, she was working on a statement she would give at her retirement party. The beginning of this statement reads, “Every day is a new beginning. Take a deep breath, smile, and start again. Sustained by God’s grace and the unwavering support of many wonderfully generous parishioners, The Word is spoken in a variety of ways here through prayer, worship, service and faith formation. I’ve had the unique privilege of serving the Lord in the faith community of St. Julie since its inception in 1974. A community tireless in their work for the poor and powerless, a community of unshakeable faith, we have been dedicated to continuing the teaching ministry of Jesus.”

Our mom believed the work of faith formation never ends. While she did finally retire, she still had a lot of ministry left to do! The families, children and catechists of the parish were her priority, and she looked forward to continuing to grow on her own faith journey in retirement. Our family is extremely proud of the fund that has taken her name. If you haven’t already, please consider a donation (any gift helps) to the Pat Kmak Faith Formation Fund:

“For 48 years, Pat Kmak was so committed to faith formation of future generations of disciples. The Pat Kmak Faith Formation Fund will be used in the parish’s formation of disciples young and old. It will not only provide financial assistance to participants who may need it, but also provide resources for catechists to grow in their ministry as those who pass on the faith.” – Fr. Tirso

Again, we thank the St. Julie family for embracing our family tightly and holding us up as we celebrate the life of our mom Pat Kmak.

With Gratitude and Love,
The Kmak Family

BETHLEHEM ARTS GROUP

Mark your calendar!
Saturday & Sunday, August 27 & 28
(after ALL the Masses)

St. Julie's will host representatives of the Catholic Christian Community from Jerusalem and Bethlehem in the Holy Land who will be displaying handcrafted olive wood religious figurines and articles.

Due to the political conflict and Covid 19, it has resulted in the reduction of tourism. The Catholic Community has come to depend more on the sale of these articles abroad to survive. The woodcarvings are beautiful and reflect faith and love for the Lord.

Please consider purchasing a gift that will be remembered and cherished for yourself or someone dear to you. The handcrafted olive wood religious figurines and articles will be available for purchase after all the weekend Masses.

DID YOU KNOW?

Does olive wood come from Bethlehem?

The olive trees used to make these carvings can be up to 2000 years old and come from the Judean hill country around Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Hebron. The tree is cut, the logs are sterilized and dried for 3 to 5 years in a climate-controlled room.

Evaluation is typically performed by an independent third party. Certification can assure consumers that they are buying forest-related products that were grown, harvested and processed sustainably, protecting the resource for future generations.

A fond farewell to a faithful and loving

On July 30, 2022 we said farewell to a wife, mother, grandmother, friend, coworker and faithful servant of God with a beautiful Celebration of Life Mass and Reception. Pat had already chosen the scripture readings and sacred songs as they had deep meanings to her and most likely "hope" for all of us. She lived each day in gratitude, always appreciative of even the smallest blessing. Never wanting the spotlight, she instead nudged others to step forward to a leadership role, while always being encouraging and supportive. She instilled confidence and love of the Lord. So very many families entrusted their children to the faith formation program. We are so grateful for Pat's beautiful spirit! You will be missed, but your influence remembered.

FAITH DIRECT

Signing up with a recurring gift is easy, and Faith Direct will help if you need assistance.

You can call their Customer Service team at 866.507.8757 or email info@faithdirect.net. I ask you to give eGiving your prayerful consideration so we can continue to help those who thirst for the love and acceptance of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

The more parishioners we have signed up for eGiving, the more consistent and predictable our offertory will be each month. This will help us do even more to spread Christ's love in our community.

May God bless you and your loved ones this summer and all year long.

Peace, Fr. Tirso Villaverde

LEGACY PLANNING

"Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called children of God; and [such] we are. (1 John 3:1)

Priests have dedicated their lives to the ministry of God's children, serving our needs as Catholics without asking for anything in return. Now, it is our turn to show our love and care for their ever-faithful support. Please consider including a legacy gift for Priests' Health and Retirement to support the healthcare needs of our active priests, as well as the medical and housing needs of our retired priests.

For more information, please call Priests' Health and Retirement at 708.449.8026. If you would like to make a gift today, please visit prmaa.org.
